The statistical booklet is an annual publication that provides brief official statistical information on the most important indicators of industry development, such as the dynamics of industrial production, fixed assets and investment in industry, labour, small and medium business in industry, financial performance of industry organisations.

The 2024 data on some statistical indicators have been revised compared with the previously published data; data for 2025 are provisional and may be revised in further issues.

Information by economic activity is based on the National Classification of the Republic of Belarus OKPB 005-2011 “Kinds of Economic Activity”.

A brief glossary of statistical terms and methodologies for compiling and calculating statistical indicators are available on the official website of Belstat (<https://www.belstat.gov.by>) in the “Methodology” section (in Russian).
